Lyrics

Verse 1

Can't be what we can't see
Can't speak if we can't breathe
Can't dance if we don't move our feet
It's a blur tryin' to keep pace
Days running like we're in a race
Can't move if we're in our own way
I guess the crisis is
We've just one life to live
And no one knows what happens next

Chorus

So what are we waiting for?
Why are we wasting all the time
like someone's making more?
What are we praying for?
What are we saving for?
What if we could be the light
that no one could ignore?
What are we waiting for?

Verse 2

Put the pen on a new page
Dream about what you could change
And live it out before it's too late
The beauty of it is
We've just one life to live
And no one knows what happens next, no

Bridge

If I love better
And you love better
Our love will live on forever

Radio

You've been living in a no man's land. / Waiting, wandering, and worrying. / In our exhaustion we tried to cry out or even whisper, but no sound came. / You've been in this wilderness for quite some time. You've lost so much. / Then, an adrenaline shot of joy gave you new life. / Half running, half stumbling, you strove towards your unfamiliar friend / And the question your soul had asked a thousand times was uttered:

Ephesians 5:15-16

- How can you be more thoughtful about your activities?
- What "Kairos" opportunities are moving in your direction right now?
- How does being too slow to act diminish what could be possible for you?

Galatians 6:9-10

- Can you choose not to become weary?
- What kind of "harvest" do you think is meant?
- What can you do when you feel like giving up?
